FRESHLY BREWED

A good machine is what makes good coffee. At Animo, this has been proven throughout the years. This vision is also shared by the ECBC in Oslo. This is why they have a special test procedure and certification to provide fresh-brew dispensers for the professional market with a quality standard. Precise control of time and temperature ensure that the right amount of flavour and aroma is extracted from the coffee beans. Not too much and certainly not too little. With a certified machine, these conditions are met.
